PRIVACY POLICY

Last Updated: November, 2026

1. Introduction

At Rock Lizard Adventure, your trust is as important to us as the experiences we create in the mountains.

We are committed to respecting your privacy and protecting the personal information you share with us while exploring our website, enquiring about our adventures, booking our services, or participating in our trekking and outdoor programs.

This Privacy Policy explains what information we collect, how we use it, when it may be shared, and how we work to keep it secure.

By using our website or engaging with our services, you acknowledge the practices described in this Privacy Policy, subject to applicable laws.

2. Information We Collect

Depending on the nature of your enquiry, booking, or participation in our programs, we may collect the following information:

A. Personal Information

- Full name
- Email address
- Mobile number
- Age or date of birth
- City, state, and country of residence
- Emergency contact details

B. Booking & Travel Information

- Trek, expedition, or tour preferences
- Travel dates and itinerary details
- Number of participants
- Booking and payment status
- Identification and permit-related documents, where required

C. Health & Safety Information

For trekking, high-altitude expeditions, and outdoor activities, we may request relevant health and fitness information, including:

- Medical conditions
- Allergies
- Medication requirements
- Previous trekking or high-altitude experience
- Emergency medical information

This information is collected only when reasonably necessary for participant safety, trip planning, or emergency management.

D. Children's Information

For school programs, children's outdoor education, and youth expeditions, we may collect necessary participant information through parents, legal guardians, or authorised institutions.

Such information may include the child's name, age, emergency contact details, and relevant health or safety information.

We handle children's personal information with particular care and obtain parental or guardian consent wherever required by applicable law.

E. Website & Technical Information

When you visit our website, certain technical information may be collected automatically, including:

- IP address
- Browser type and device information
- Pages visited
- Website usage and interaction data
- Cookies and similar technologies, where applicable

This information helps us understand website performance, improve user experience, and maintain website security.

3. How We Use Your Information

We use your information for legitimate business and operational purposes, including:

- Responding to enquiries and providing requested information.
- Processing bookings and registrations.
- Planning itineraries and arranging travel logistics.
- Coordinating accommodation, transportation, meals, and guides.
- Managing permits and other necessary travel documentation.
- Assessing relevant health and safety requirements.
- Contacting participants regarding trip updates, schedules, and operational changes.
- Managing emergencies and providing assistance when required.
- Improving our website, services, and customer experience.
- Sending promotional offers, updates, or newsletters where permitted and appropriate.
- Managing B2B partnerships and business enquiries.
- Complying with applicable legal and regulatory requirements.

We collect and use personal information only for purposes that are relevant to the services we provide.

4. Sharing of Personal Information

To deliver a safe and well-organised adventure experience, certain information may need to be shared with trusted service providers or authorised parties.

These may include:

- Accommodation providers and homestays
- Transportation providers
- Trek leaders, guides, and outdoor instructors
- Local logistics partners
- Travel agencies and authorised B2B partners
- Medical professionals or emergency response services
- Government authorities and permit-issuing agencies, where required
- Payment gateway providers

We share only the information reasonably necessary for the relevant purpose.

Rock Lizard Adventure does not sell your personal information to third parties.

We do not knowingly disclose personal information for unrelated third-party marketing purposes without an appropriate lawful basis.

5. Payment Information

Payments for our services may be processed through third-party payment gateways or authorised financial service providers.

Your payment transactions are subject to the privacy and security practices of the respective payment provider.

Rock Lizard Adventure does not intend to store complete debit card, credit card, or banking credentials on its own website servers.

We may retain relevant transaction records, booking details, payment status, and receipts for accounting, operational, and legal purposes.

6. Cookies & Website Analytics

Our website may use cookies and similar technologies to:

- Improve website functionality.
- Understand visitor behaviour.
- Remember user preferences.
- Measure website traffic and performance.
- Support relevant website features and marketing activities, where applicable.

You may manage or disable cookies through your browser settings.

Please note that disabling certain cookies may affect the functionality of some website features.

Where required by applicable law, we will obtain appropriate consent for the use of cookies or similar technologies.

7. Data Security

We take reasonable technical, organisational, and administrative measures to protect personal information against unauthorised access, misuse, loss, alteration, or disclosure.

These measures may include:

- Restricted access to personal information.
- Secure website connections.
- Appropriate access controls.
- Secure handling of booking and participant records.
- Working with service providers that maintain appropriate security practices.

While we strive to protect your information, no method of electronic storage or transmission over the internet can be guaranteed to be completely secure.

8. Data Retention

ROCKLIZARD
ADVENTURE • CONFIDENCE • MEMORIES

We retain personal information only for as long as it is reasonably necessary to fulfil the purposes described in this Privacy Policy, including:

- Booking and expedition management.
- Participant safety and emergency records.
- Customer support.
- Accounting and financial records.
- Legal and regulatory compliance.
- Resolution of disputes.

When personal information is no longer required, we will take reasonable steps to delete it or securely dispose of it, subject to applicable legal requirements.

9. Your Privacy Rights

Depending on applicable laws, you may have the right to:

- Request access to your personal information.
- Request correction of inaccurate or incomplete information.
- Request deletion of personal information when legally permissible.

- Withdraw consent for certain uses of your information.
- Raise concerns regarding the handling of your personal information.
- Request information about how your data is being used.

To exercise these rights, please contact us using the details provided in the Contact Information section.

We may need to verify your identity before processing certain requests.

Please note that withdrawing consent or requesting deletion may affect our ability to provide certain services, particularly where the information is necessary for booking arrangements, permits, participant safety, or legal compliance.

10. Third-Party Websites & Services

Our website may contain links to third-party websites, platforms, or services, including payment providers, social media platforms, and travel-related resources.

These external websites operate independently and may have their own privacy policies and practices.

Rock Lizard Adventure is not responsible for the privacy practices or content of third-party websites.

We encourage you to review their privacy policies before sharing personal information.

11. Marketing & Communication

We may contact you regarding your enquiries, bookings, upcoming expeditions, relevant updates, or services you have expressed interest in.

Where permitted by applicable law, we may also send promotional communications.

You may opt out of promotional emails or messages at any time by following the unsubscribe instructions or contacting us directly.

Please note that essential booking, safety, or operational communications may still be sent when necessary.

12. Privacy of Children

Rock Lizard Adventures conducts outdoor education programs and adventure activities involving children and young participants.

We recognise the importance of protecting children's personal information.

Where required, we obtain verifiable consent from a parent or legal guardian before collecting or processing a child's personal information.

We collect only the information reasonably necessary for program administration, participant safety, emergency management, and related purposes.

Parents or legal guardians may contact us to request access, correction, or deletion of their child's personal information, subject to applicable laws.

13. Changes to This Privacy Policy

Rock Lizard Adventures may update this Privacy Policy from time to time to reflect changes in our services, website features, operational practices, or applicable laws.

Any updates will be published on this page along with a revised “Last Updated” date.

We encourage visitors and participants to review this policy periodically.

14. Contact Information

If you have any questions, concerns, or requests regarding this Privacy Policy or the handling of your personal information, please contact us:

Email: rocklizardalmora@gmail.com

We will make reasonable efforts to respond to privacy-related enquiries within an appropriate timeframe.

YOUR TRUST. OUR RESPONSIBILITY. YOUR ADVENTURE.

At Rock Lizard Adventure, we believe every great adventure begins with trust.

We are committed to treating your personal information with care and respect, so you can focus on what matters most—exploring the mountains, discovering new experiences, and creating memories that last a lifetime.
